GET CONNECTED LEDWELL'S NEW WEBSITE

Ledwell's quality truck bodies and trailers are always built using our latest, most innovative ideas, but our focus on improvement doesn't stop there. We've taken our design strengths and creativity and applied them to building a better website for our customers. Ledwell's new website has a fresh look and is exceptionally user friendly and accessible.

Our customers deserve the best, and that's just what we've provided. Just as Ledwell promises quality in every piece of equipment, we've provided the same dedication for our new site and social media presence. We want you to have easy access to our product information, specifications, and company events. Visit our resources page for videos, frequently asked questions and our quarterly newsletter. Find links to our downloadable owner's manuals, sales literature, and warranty information under your chosen truck body or trailer. We've made accessing all of the detailed materials for your next piece of equipment easy and intuitive. Using a responsive design, our website has been optimized for any device. Essentially, it is easy to use to you wherever you are!

Watersprings Ranch is a non-profit organization, located in Texarkana, Arkansas, that helps children in need. Founded in 1989 by David and Carla Whatley, the goal of the Ranch is to bring children together and help them support each other, to understand they are loved, not only by those around them, but by God.

Watersprings Ranch houses almost 50 children at a time on their land. They operate as a Christian based residential group home that extends their helping hands to children of all backgrounds. Their largest legacy resides in building safe, educational, and happy homes for children who have not had that in their past.

Watersprings Ranch provides extracurricular activities, education, therapy services, and special needs services for all children in the program who need them. The goal is to provide them a normal childhood. More than anything, the kids need to be kids, and that's the message of the Watersprings Ranch philosophy. They are privately funded, using donations from those in the community to build a foundation for the kids. Ledwell employees, along with many other community leaders, have donated time, resources, and more to the children of this facility. To learn more about Watersprings Ranch, please visit waterspringsranch.org. You can also follow them on their social media pages to see what they're up to and to keep in touch!

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

ANDY SQUILLANTE

Andy Squillante provides outstanding work as a Ledwell engineer and electrical consultant. He brings all types of hydraulic and mechanical skills to the job that he learned from his previous work experience. Andy's past work as a technical salesman gave him the foundation for the work he does at Ledwell today. At Ledwell, Andy oversees the Electronics Department and helps design many components of your favorite equipment, making sure they all work efficiently and consistently. Some of these items include our severe duty coolers, hydraulic lift systems and our specialized remote controls.

To him, Ledwell means family, integrity, and financial stability. His personal motto is "Every day you wake up unemployed," because he believes that with every workday you have to prove why you are here. He enjoys all facets of the industrial world and has gained a real appreciation for manufacturing lines. In his spare time, Andy likes collecting antiques, exercising, watching college football, and spending time with his seven grandchildren. All in all, Andy loves to keep busy and make sure that he's always working toward an end solution!

IN THE SHOP ELECTRONICS

Our Electronics Department works alongside several other departments to create and maintain the electronic devices on your favorite pieces of equipment. Employees in this sector have a combined experience of over four decades, allowing the majority of the work to be done in house and to feature original designs. By manufacturing the materials for direct operation, our electronics department keeps your equipment available, operational, and efficient. A few product examples include control boxes, compressor boxes, and wiring for a variety of electronic attachments.
